Colchester solved the problem by introducing the Mascot 1600 a machine with a radically modern appearance and a 1600 rpm top speed. The design of the new lathe not only revitalised Colchester's reputation but also managed to make the competition look distinctly old-fashioned and out of touch; so successful was it that it formed the basis for Colchester's new "corporate" look that lasted from the late 1960 until the end of the 1980s.
