Good for high-strength fastening, these screws are made from steel comparable in strength to Grade 9 steel. Use them for heavy duty stamping applications as well as earth-moving machinery, such as bulldozers and excavators. The head makes 12 points of contact with a wrench to handle more torque than a socket head or hex head screw. The flange distributes pressure where the screw meets the ...

1 Aug 1 Alright, I have been extensively modding my Phantoms for the past week. I have found a couple of simple mods that COMPLETELY transform these headphones. First of all, There is a LOT of talk about the lack of bass, especially considering that these are planarmagnetic drivers, which are known well for good bass response.
